

Cool Offices: Greenphire

Jul 11, 2016, 7:31am EDT

Have you ever dreamed of mixing work and play? The employees at Greenphire do just that. The company's new suburban office has revolutionized the workplace, satisfying its employees every need.

Greenphire's open office layout — complete with one-of-a-kind green bungee chairs (you'll want to take one home) and walls you can draw on — foster a collaborative office environment, company leaders say. The open space makes room for foosball and air hockey tables.

The company regularly holds beer pong tournaments for St. Patrick's Day — yes, there is green beer and March Madness — complete with big screen TVs broadcasting the games.

Food is also an important part of life at Greenphire, which was named to Philadelphia Business Journal's "Best Places to Work" three times in the last four years. Its large, communal kitchen and cafeteria are home to weekly Amazon Fresh deliveries, chili cook offs, pies for Pi Day, pot luck Thanksgiving lunch, soft pretzel Thursdays and beer Fridays.

Employees: 95

Business description: Technology company that provides clinical trial payment solutions to increase patient satisfaction and improve workflow for sponsors, CROS and investigators.

Address: 630 Allendale Road, Suite 250 King of Prussia, Pa. 19406

Office Opened: 2008

Building size: 150,000 square feet

Office size: 18,000 square feet

Building floors: Two

Office floors: One

General contractor: Erickson

Building owner: Brandywine Realty Trust