Thursday is its grand opening

With three others already slinging "road-side" burgers and dogs in the Philly-area (one of them already in the King of Prussia Mall) Shake Shack continues its crusade into the western suburbs, opening its second location this Thursday, September 1, at the King of Prussia Mall's new dining pavilion, Savor King of Prussia. The new Shack will be called the King of Prussia 2 Shack.

Expect the same sort of menu you'd find at any one of the company's 100 locations, including the Shack Attack concrete (shown here on the right), a frozen chocolate custard localized with Conshy-based Tradestone Confections chocolate chunks.

The King of Prussia 2 Shack will continue to serve its signature ShackMeister Ale from Brooklyn Brewery, but Yards and Yuengling are also on tap.
